Editorial Review

About the Author

Manish Patel is a senior SAP professional with almost 15 years of experience in the IT industry. After graduating from Bombay University, Manish worked at an Indian software company on various financials projects in the Asia Pacific region. During his tenure at this company, he gained experience as the finance lead responsible for implementing the company's indigenously-developed ERP system. Over last ten years, he has worked on variety of SAP projects in a number of different industries. He has also conducted several successful SAP trainings at various SAP Americas facilities. This breadth of assignments has honed his abilities to successfully perform different roles in an SAP project, ranging from system configuration to project management. He is currently working as a Senior SAP Solutions Consultant in Northern California. He is also the author of bestselling books SAP Account Determination and Discover SAP ERP Financials, published by SAP PRESS in English and in German. The account determination book is targeted at the technical and consulting community. The book explores vital design elements that carry out automatic determination of GL accounts from business transactions in various SAP components. The Discover series book describes functionalities of 19+ SAP Financials components. It is primarily targeted at decision makers and project managers. However, it is also useful for technical people who want to understand business logic underlying available functionalities. Manish enjoys working through the challenges and complexities that are inherent in the implementation of such a full-featured enterprise-wide system. He is keenly aware of the potential constraints and other non-technical aspects that limit scope of initial SAP implementations.
