She's Just Not That Into You: The Fab Femme's Guide to Queer Love and Dating By Aryka Randall

As Editor-in-Chief at TheFabFemme.com, Aryka Randall has become the authority on Girl+Girl love, especially for women of color. Now in her first book, She's Just Not That Into You, Randall tells her story and gets the conversation heated up on queer dating, relationships, open commitments, living arrangements, work, money, love, sex and lust.

She's Just Not That Into You covers everything from reality checks your friends won't give you and learning to love yourself to avoiding toxic relationships and why serial dating often leads to disaster – the kind of advice any young woman in love or looking for love needs.

Editorial Review

Review

"Relationships are a constant battle between acting from perception and responding to the reality of what you thinks it takes to love and be love. Aryka's book offers insight that's open and straightforward. Truly a must read for any woman ready to hear the truth of what it takes to be in a loving relationship!" -Chanel Brown, The Real L Word

About the Author

Aryka Randall is a 29 year old writer and creative entity from San Diego California who currently resides in Houston Texas. After moving to Lake Charles Louisiana with her mother at the age of 18, she developed friendships with a number of people who would inspire her creatively later down the line. Around the age of 24 years old, Aryka created a website called The Fab Femme that opened the door to a number of opportunities. She also created a web series called "Girl Play" that was highly successful online. The series itself was based on life after spending time on the gay scene in Houston Texas. An avid lover of Harry Potter, fashion, art, and pretty much anything from Tarte Cosmetics, Randall is your every day "femme" with a Cali attitude and a southern spunk. Look for more of her work in the future!
